Decatur Open Air
Services to Begin
On Sunday Evening

The union open-air services of the three Decatur churches as previously announced, will begin tomorrow (Sunday) night at 8 o'clock, at the Decatur public school lawn. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. H. M. Stevenson of the First Methodist church. Music will be in charge of a union choir of the three churches. These services will be held each Sunday evening, weather permitting, for the next several weeks. The pastors will alternate in conducting the services. Various interesting features will be introduced from time to time.

Harry Frahn Named
Silk Plant Architect

Nashville Man Selected to Design New Building to be Erected in Albany.

Harry Frahn, of Nashville, well-known architect, has been employed to make the architect's drawings for the building to be erected in Albany as the home of the new silk mill. Mr. Frahn won the contract in spirited competition, and will rush the plans for the building, which will be erected in the next few months. Mr. Frahn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frahn of this city, and a nephew of Mrs. Otto Moebes. He has won wide reputation as an architect since opening offices at Nashville.

Divinity Student
Enlists in Army

Harry Carter Joins Hospital Corps of Fourth Alabama Infantry.

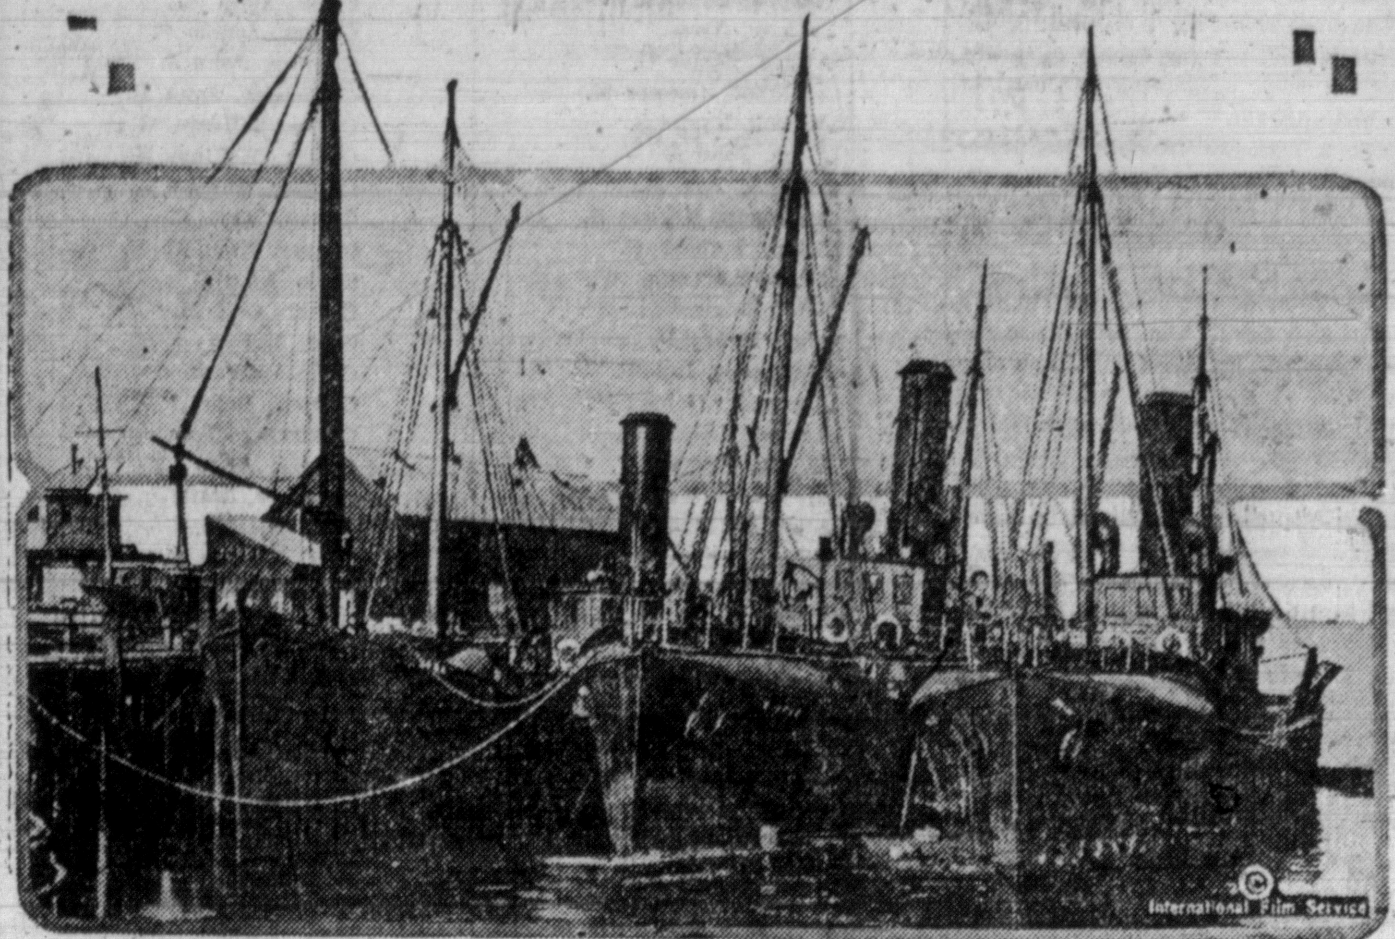

Harry Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter, of West Albany, this morning enlisted in the regimental hospital corps of the Fourth Alabama Infantry, and will leave tomorrow for Montgomery for the final examination. Although exempt from army service, as he is a divinity student, Mr. Carter felt it his duty to respond to the call of his country.

GERMANS EMPLOYED IN SWISS
LEGATION ARE ORDERED HOME

(International News Service.) New York, July 7.—Orders to arrest all German agents, financial and otherwise, known to make this city their headquarters, were received from Washington today by federal officers. It is understood similar orders have been sent broadcast throughout the nation.

(International News Service.) Washington, July 7.—All Germans in the employ of the Swiss embassy will be discharged and granted safe passage to Germany under diplomatic custom. Not only the Germans left in the embassy to handle routine work, at the request of Ambassador Bernstorff, but all other Germans employed at any time in any kind of service for the German government will be deported. The state department made this announcement today. German spies, actual and probable, are being picked up by the department of justice officials at the rate of two a day. It was learned this afternoon. It is known this rate has been maintained for some time. Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, expected to introduce a resolution to probe the workings of the bureau of public information, which made public the report of the battle between German submarines and American transports, in connection with the search for German spies.

SOLD TO THE BRITISH AS MINE SWEEPERS

The fishing steamers Spray, Ripple, and Foam, which have been sold to be used by the British government as mine sweepers, are being fitted out in East Boston. Each vessel will be equipped with wireless and powerful searchlights, and will have stateroom accommodations for 60 men. The price paid for the trawlers is believed to have been $100,000 each.

PROHIBITION FIGHT
RAGES MERRILY IN
THE UPPER HOUSE;
RESULT IN DOUBT

DRY FORCES WON FIRST ENGAGEMENT WHEN CUMMINS' AMENDMENT WAS ADOPTED BY A CLOSE VOTE.

MUCH REVENUE WOULD BE LOST

THE ADMINISTRATION LEADERS SPEND BUSY NIGHT IN ATTEMPT TO ROUND UP RECRUITS FOR THEIR CAUSE. BATTLE RENEWED TODAY.

(International News Service.) Washington, July 7.—The vote on that part of the Cummins amendment prohibiting the withdrawal of spirituous liquors from bond for beverage purposes, was reconsidered by the senate this afternoon, 44 to 37.

(International News Service.) Washington, July 7.—The drys won another victory in the prohibition fight this afternoon when the senate refused to modify the Cummins amendment prohibiting the withdrawal from bond and the importation of distilled spirits by a vote of 45 to 38. The senate rejected the Reed amendment authorizing the president to permit the withdrawal of liquors from bond if the welfare of the country required.

(International News Service.) Washington, July 7.—The senate by a vote of 65 to 17 this afternoon adopted an amendment directing the president to requisition alcoholic spirits in bond and to pay the owners the actual cost of the spirits, plus not more than 10 per cent profit. No figures are available, but some estimates place the cost of this on the government as high as $500,000,000.

(International News Service.) Washington, July 7.—Confronted with an annual loss of $225,000,000 revenue as the result of the adoption of the Cummins amendment yesterday, administration forces were deep in confusion over the prohibition issue when the fight was renewed in the senate today.

Over night leaders were busy trying to round up votes to knock out the Cummins amendment today. The contested part of the amendment was carried by a vote of 45 to 40. Whether the administration has mustered sufficient strength to justify a new assault upon the amendment will not be known until tomorrow. (Continued on Page Three.)

TINSK IN FLAMES
AS RUSSIANS MEET
THE UPPER HOUSE;
BATTLE FOR CITY

FIGHTING ON EASTERN FRONT CONTINUES WITH UNABATED FURY, WITH GERMAN REINFORCEMENTS COMING UP.

VICTORY IN WEST FLANDERS

ALL QUIET AT VERDUN, AND THE TEUTON EFFORT TO BREAK THROUGH FRENCH LINE HAS APPARENTLY FAILED.

(International News Service.) Petrograd, July 7.—A mighty battle has broken out between German and Russian troops west of Tinsk, according to a dispatch given out by the semi-official news agency today. Tinsk is reported to be in flames.

(International News Service.) London, July 7.—British forces in Belgium pressed closer to Warnton during the night, advancing their lines east of Ytschaete. News of this first success for the West Flanders army was announced by the war office at noon.

(International News Service.) Petrograd, July 7.—German and Austro-Hungarian reinforcements have been rushed to the eastern Pring line to meet renewed attacks of the Russians. In Galicia the Austro-German hold on Halicz and Brzezany is threatened.

(International News Service.) Paris, July 7.—A lull has settled down over the Verdun and Aisne front. The German counter offensive apparently has broken down. East of Rheims and south of Moronvilleres in Champagne intense artillery duels were in progress all night, the French war office reported today.

French Submarine
Sunk By U-Boat

(International News Service.) Paris, July 7.—Reports of the loss of the French submarine Arine were officially confirmed today. The submarine was torpedoed by a German U-boat in the Mediterranean.

REPUBLIC'S TROOPS
WIN FIRST BLOOD
IN CHINESE WAR;
PEKIN IS EXCITED

INITIAL BATTLE, THIRTY-FIVE MILES FROM THE CAPITAL, WENT AGAINST THE IMPERIAL FORCES.

FEAR CITY WILL BE SACKED

JAPANESE ARMY MAY BE CALLED ON TO RESTORE ORDER IF LOOTING BREAKS OUT. NO OTHER TROOPS AVAILABLE.

(International News Service.) Shanghai, July 7.—Chinese republican troops were reported today to have won their first engagement with the imperial soldiers for the possession of Peking. This was the fight at Lang Sang, about 35 miles southeast of the capital. Fears that Peking may be looted if fighting breaks out in the city has led to the belief in some quarters that foreign troops may be sent to the relief of the capital, as was the case in the Boxer uprising.

CHAOS AND EXCITEMENT
RULE NOW AT PEKIN

(International News Service.) Peking, July 7.—Chaos and tremendous excitement exist here. The city is full of soldiers and important troop movements are under way outside the walls. Railroad traffic is demoralized and many trains are not operating at all. It is understood that the former premier, Tuan Chi Jui, has been made commander-in-chief of the republican troops that are opposing the imperial army of Gen. Chang Hsun. The people are apprehensive and many are fleeing, fearing looting. The Japanese troops are the only ones that seem able to give effectual assistance to prevent the possible sacking of the city.

Mysterious Increases
in Prices Weakening

(International News Service.) Washington, July 7.—The "mysterious increases" which attach themselves to the cost of foodstuffs after they leave the producer and before they get to the consumer, are disappearing. Gradually, food prices are returning to normal.

SWARM OF BIRDMEN
ATTACK THE CAPITAL;
LIFE LOSS IS HEAVY

More Than Twenty Aeroplanes Swoop Down From Sea on Murderous Mission

THEIR COMING HAD BEEN ANNOUNCED

High-Angle Guns and British Flyers Engaged the Enemy in Spectacular Fight

(International News Service.) London, July 7.—German air raiders struck at London again today in their campaign of terror and frightfulness. The city was bombarded by 20 aeroplanes and many bombs were dropped. It was the biggest air fleet that ever carried out an attack against the British capital.

Lord French, commander-in-chief of the home forces, made an official announcement saying that the air craft in considerable numbers had been sighted off the Isle of Thanet and the east coast of Essex. It was just an hour after Lord French made his first statement that the raiders were seen above London. As the German air planes approached the city the high angle guns were turned loose. British aeroplanes shot aloft as rapidly as their motors could carry them to give battle to the Germans.

The Germans employed more aeroplanes in their latest attack than ever before. In the previous raid they used 16 machines, and in that attack over 100 persons, including many women and children, were killed in the East End.

The attack was not confined entirely to this city. Bombs were dropped at other places as well.

Persons in the streets and on the roofs had an excellent view of the thrilling spectacle. The raiders flew directly over the city, and as they did so puffs of white smoke could be seen in the sky where the shrapnel from the anti-aircraft guns were exploding, while British air planes could be seen darting after the enemy and a sound of machine guns came down from aloft in crackling waves. For about 15 minutes the Germans dropped bombs and damage was done in the heart of the city. Early this afternoon a list of the casualties had not been compiled, but the loss of life is believed to be heavy. The admiralty announced this afternoon that three of the German machines had been shot down.

Hospital Campaign Fund

On Monday, July 16, the campaign for the $2,000 for the Benevolent Society hospital will be resumed. At that time a "dollar campaign" will be inaugurated, and every man, woman and child of Albany-Decatur will have the privilege of a share in wiping out the debt the ladies have carried for two years past. Save your dollar and it will be called for. You are not limited to one dollar, but may give as many dollars as you can spare. Let the children put their dimes together and make a dollar. Look for further announcements.

S. S. Convention

There will be a District Sunday School Convention at the First Christian church of Albany on Sunday afternoon, July 8, at 3 o'clock.

NEGROES PLANNED MASSACRE
OF EAST ST. LOUIS WHITES

(International News Service.) East St. Louis, Ill., July 7.—Negroes planned a massacre among 25,000 white people at a Fourth of July picnic here, but the plot was frustrated by the uprising of the whites on Tuesday night, according to testimony at the secret session of the coroner's inquest here. Officials said that they have gained admissions from five negro witnesses that there was an organized plot headed by Dr. L. H. Bundy, negro dentist, for a wholesale slaughter of the white population.

Central Churches of Albany Will Hold
Open Air Services

The central churches of Albany—Central Methodist, Central Baptist and Westminster Presbyterian—will hold the first of the summer evening open air services on the lawn of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. During the heated term, probably for the next two months, these services will be held every Sunday evening, the pastors of the churches alternating in the preaching.

Rev. J. C. Persinger, pastor of the Central Methodist church, will preach tomorrow night. Music will be furnished by the choirs of the three churches.

NUMBERS ON DRAFT
CARDS ARE CHANGED

DO NOT CORRESPOND WITH THE NUMBERS GIVEN ON REGISTRATION DAY.

The number on the individual registration certificate will not be the same as the serial number sent to Washington to be put among the number for selection, according to Circuit Clerk James L. Draper, today. The serial numbers run as high as the number of the cards in the county. For instance, your serial number might be 2500, while the number on your registration card is not likely to be over 100 in the average beat.

Thus, when the federal government makes the selection of the numbers, you cannot look at your registration number, but must find out your serial number from the local board before you will know whether you are selected.

It becomes the duty of the local board to send a written notice to all who have been selected for service. The local board failed to get through with the cards yesterday. It will have to work today and Sunday to dispose of the 3,000 cards.

To Train American
Aviators in France

(International News Service.) Paris, July 7.—A great American school, capable of training several thousand aviators, is about to be established in France, according to the Petit Parisien today.

JARRING LOOSE FROM SELF.

In "The Month-Building Record" of "Association Men." It is a revelation to see the large amounts that were signed up for Y. M. C. A. purposes during the month of April. In dozens and dozens of cities the record shows additions to buildings, new buildings and increased endowment funds. The little city of Hanover, Pa., about the size of Albany in population, though certainly not in promise for the future, in six days pledged $55,000 for Association work. For the Bozeman, Mont., Y. M. C. A., a Mr. E. Bronx Martain, a "plain man of the world," as he characterized himself, sent in his donation with the following note: "I send about my only savings up to date to be deposited where I feel they will be doing good after I am done and gone." And he adds, "I have a great faith in the young men of the future in America. Never has there been a time when men of all classes were so willing to lend a hand to make conditions right and clean as today. I have been astonished at the liberality of the common people in aiding this cause."

The thing for all at this time is to have the liberality of spirit for our local Y. M. C. A. that the "common people" referred to by Mr. Martain had. By liberality it is not meant the "loosening up" with membership dues, etc., so much. A war strength membership is going to be enrolled next week alright, but a sure enough liberality, one entirely too big to be measured in dollars and cents, in a great library, in baths, or in all the superb equipment of a modern Association. A liberality that will embrace all humanity; a liberality that will have a strong expulsive power over its possessors, such as will expel all littleness, clannishness and selfishness in our attitude toward the Y. M. C. A. Then (if it is really true as reported) we will hear no more about "the railroad making money out of the Y." and that the "Y. is a graft," operated by a few outstanding individuals in general and by the L. & N. in particular, to put over certain selfish purposes and to do certain things to certain individuals.

With the liberal viewpoint as our own, we can then see that the Y. is indeed seeking to do good things for all who will let it, both in an individual and a collective sense. With this liberal spirit we will take as literally true Vice President Evans' recent sentiment that the railroad employees and all are to be benefitted by the local Young Men's Christian Association, that the Association was erected and is operated for the best interests of all.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH AND EVERY OTHER DAY

BY OBSERVER.

THE DESIRE TO KNOW.
The question mark is the first mark of greatness. But it is not the final evidence of greatness. No one would call a child great, though children and question marks are interchangeable words. A questioner is only potentially great. When Christ said we are to become as little children He didn't mean that we are to imitate children or have some of their characteristics—selfishness, for instance, and cruelty. The Master meant that the potentiality to true greatness is resident in children. Whatever we would like to stop and say about some of the possessions of children, such as their vitality, brightness, beauty, openness, frankness, power to believe, their hope, their faith in God, their true love and their dear appealing faces, will be left unsaid, and the speaking will be on the child's active principle to borrow a chemical work—the desire to know. A bright child's first sentence is a question. And the right kind of a man-child will not see a hole in the ground without asking why came it there? It wasn't seeing the apple fall that caused Sir Isaac Newton to find his law of gravitation.

Frank Willis Barnett Tells of His Trip

(From Birmingham Age-Herald.)

A flying trip to North Alabama. In company with the Hon. Frank S. White, Secretary T. P. Hay and Wade Wood, I visited Albany, Decatur, Athens and Huntsville, four progressive cities in the great Tennessee valley.

Albany has at last made her debut in her own new name. When I went with Secretary of War Baker and his party, en route to Muscle Shoals, one morning as we looked out of the Pullman, Director Otis Smith of the geological survey asked me the name of the place where we had been side-tracked for the night. I answered it was "Albany." But, said he, "the sign on the depot reads New Decatur." But I replied that the people by vote had recently changed its name. Taking out his map he said, "All right, I will now formally christen it Albany," and he wrote it down in pencil.

Albany has a live Board of Commerce and quite a lot of business-men had gathered for a conference on food conservation. There were several addresses and a number of short talks. The Birmingham committee was present to give and receive suggestions. It was a getting together that will mean much for better relations between the two cities.

Mayor E. C. Payne, rightfully proud of what his people were doing in the way of gardening, showed us block after block under cultivation, the space between the sidewalks and the street in many places having been planted with a variety of vegetables. The city parks had been turned over to the school children, and in many instances plats were being used by the shop men. We saw in a number of instances whole families at after 6 o'clock working their patches.

I was startled by a statement of Mayor Payne, who said that enough food, in the space of four days, was thrown into the trash cans of Albany to feed the whole city for one day. This he said he had gathered from making a tour of the alleys and investigating the matter for his own personal information.

Driving us back to our hotel for supper, as we were riding down one of the streets, he turned and said to me, "You are in Decatur, while I am in Albany." The street car track is the dividing line and he was motoring between the tracks. He was at the wheel and I was sitting next to him.

At Decatur we spoke at night, but as the meeting had not been sufficiently advertised owing to the short notice they had of our coming, we were requested to come back on our way home and speak in the afternoon, which we did.

Decatur is a solid town, backed by a rich farming section. We were considerably amused by a remark of one of Decatur's leading brokers and farmers. We were waiting for the ferry to take us over the river when he rode up on horseback, carrying a sharpened plow. Said he: "You fellows nearly scared me to death about the scarcity of food, so I got up early and am on my way to see that my corn gets another plowing."

I was surprised to see him ride in to the ferry and dismount and throw the lines over the horn of the saddle and walk away, leaving his fine mare unhitched. His attention being called to it, he replied: "Oh, she is ferry broke." This reminded me of an experience I once had. When my father-in-law, a Methodist, learned that I was going to drive Spokane, a famous roadster that I had bought from him, through the country from Forsyth to Washington, Ga., he warned me to be sure and unhitch him in crossing forries, and to also blindfold him. I thought it unnecessary and drove on to the first ferry I came to and he quietly walked over to the side and began to drink out of the river. I suppose he had horse sense enough to know that his new owner was a Baptist and not afraid of water. Any way, that's how I accounted for it in telling my father-in-law about my Spokane acted.

Yes, I am aware that in the Tenth Commandment we are warned against coveting sundry of our neighbor's things, but as rivers are not specifically mentioned and may come under the prohibition of "anything that is thy neighbor's" I am going to except the Tennessee river, for I do want it and want it bad, not for selfish purposes, but for what a blessing it would be to Birmingham.

It's a majestic stream. Its power and beauty make a tremendous appeal. As I crossed it the other day I could not help lamenting the fact that commercially it was so little used. It made me more certain that we need a river. One thing sure, we can't get one by coveting it; our only hope is to adopt one, and so let's quit talking about it and appropriate the Warrior.

Athens is a hustling little city. Not a long while back I started to Nashville, and tired out was sleeping when the train reached Athens. The noise and lights woke me up and the white way fooled me, so half awake I began to gather up my luggage to get out thinking I had reached Nashville. I do not blame Athens for being proud of her new depot and car sheds.

Here we found Mayor Hines and a wide-awake lot of men. Athens has always been a thrifty place. Many years she has corn to sell. It leaked out that Wade Wood, who was with us, had one season bought 40,000 bushels of corn in Athens through a local dealer. Birmingham can buy all the corn made in the Tennessee valley. We ought to make a fight to get it.

I was greatly impressed with the potential power of Decatur and Albany. It's not for an outsider to tell any community or communities what they ought to do. They have decided to live separately and as much as I like to marry people I am not going to solicit the business, and yet I hope to live long enough to see some minister get the job of uniting Miss Albany to Mr. Decatur, but to do it just now would be to start them off in a row, so let's be patient, and give them a chance and maybe they will get tired of making faces at one another, and later on snug up to one another and decide it's best to set up housekeeping together.

I think the speaking of the committee sent by the business men will bear fruit. I know that Captain White, Secretary Hay and Wade Wood, the business man, all talked sense. I am a heaven-born publicity agent, and this was my job, but they were kind enough to call me out from time to time and I got to say my say and, of course, was happy.

MAYBE EDITOR HARKREADER CAN TELL US.

It has been said that the best place to try out a dangerous weapon, bucking broncho or cranky automobile without hurting anybody would be on Bank street in Decatur. We decline to affirm or deny this assertion and respectfully pass it on to Editor Harkreader of the Albany-Decatur Daily. He was in Huntsville the other day but failed to leave any advance information on the subject.—Huntsville Times.

Dr. J. L. Gunter leaves tomorrow to visit his brother at Columbus, Miss.

MISS GURLEY NOTARY PUBLIC.
Probate Judge L. P. Troup has received notification from Governor Henderson of the appointment of Miss Minnie H. Gurley, of Hartselle, as a notary public.

Blessed Immunity.
Ethel surprised her mother by her interest in a statue of the Venus of Milo.

"Oh, I wish I was that lady!" she exclaimed.

"Why, dear?" her mother asked.

"Cause then people wouldn't always be saying to me, 'Don't bite your nails, dear.'"—New York Times.

AMUSEMENTS

Coming Tuesday, July 10, to Delite and Star, "The Neglected Wife." Literally, millions of people have read the stories of domestic life, which Mabel Herbert Urner has been contributing to the press of the country for several years past. They have been so intimate that they have won a warm place for themselves in the affections of countless readers.

Realizing their popularity, Pathe has visualized Mrs. Urner's work in motion pictures. The result is the photoplay serial, "The Neglected Wife."

"The Neglected Wife" is in fifteen episodes of two reels each. The story is a natural one, such as might happen in any family; and no doubt, many men and women watching it unfold on the screen will be surprised how near their lives have been paralleled by the writer. While it does not depend on thrills to grip, there are some big effects.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today.

PRETTY AMBULANCE DRIVERS

Nearly 100 of Washington's best-known society girls and young matrons have become qualified as ambulance drivers for the American Red Cross. Here are two of them—Miss Ethel Harriman (left), daughter of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, and Mrs. W. D. Robbins, wife of an official in the state department. The reason their uniforms look so good is that they were made to order by real tailors and have never known a commissary shelf.

The Rope Men of The Round House

Fifteen veterans of the Y. M. C. A. campaign appear above attached to the rope that tied up many a man for the "Y" during last year's membership harvest; and what of this number still remain in this land of the living are today eager for the fray and they say they will "do it again." The faces easily recognized in the "Manila Rope Company" reading from left to right are Capt. F. M. Schlier, Fred J. Patterson, Sam W. Surratt, C. Andy Ellner, W. F. Farrell, Chas. F. Brown. The last named was perhaps the most aggressive leader of the hustling leaders who "roped 'em in" one year ago.

This year, however, Mr. Brown and his compatriots will have to face a great offensive movement headed by such men as Capt. Ott Hames of the "Y" ball team; E. S. Blizzard and O. B. Bassham. Bassham and Hames will contend to the death for first individual honors in getting members this year, beginning Monday, if the future is to be judged by the past, as last year Mr. Bassham won the heavy artillery duel for new members over Hames by only a narrow margin. It was this spirited fight for supremacy that "Ott" had in mind yesterday, when he said his say about what he was going to do. Bassham was too far away to make a reply, as he was spending the Fourth of July week with his parents in Tennessee, but "Blondie" will be here bright and early Monday, and will need no war secretary to lead him into battle.

Will Take Measure of the Home Guards

Major Malone Requests Full Attendance for Next Tuesday Evening.

The Albany Home Guards are to have their measure taken. Not by any invading foe, or by some other military unit with a better drilling record, but by a first class tailor. The ceremony will take place next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Albany armory, and every member of the guard is requested by Major Malone to be present at that time. The organization is to be fitted with the regulation Plattsburg uniforms, and when dressed out from top to toe will present a spic and span appearance. They will be armed with obsolete army rifles.

The uniform question, which has been an acute one with the guards since their formation some months ago was finally disposed of at a meeting held last night following the regular drill practice. The Plattsburg uniforms was the solution.

It is announced that in the near future the guards will trek to Athens, where they will assist in the organization of a home guard for that city.

Former Postmaster Issues Statement

To the Citizens of Albany and Morgan County:

In concluding my term as postmaster, I am prompted to express my appreciation of the many considerations of the patrons, and the hearty co-operation of the entire force of the office, clerks, city carriers and rural carriers.

A reasonable public coupled with loyal assistance, is a very effective lubrication in the operation of the postoffice, both of which was my good fortune. The record of the office is proof as to its patrons and attaches.

Matters out of season are out of reason, hence I will refrain at this time in attempting to acquaint the public with some of the most startling intrigues anyone ever encountered.

Notwithstanding that I was denied a second term, I have no hesitancy in saying that I made as competent a postmaster as Mr. Almon has a "Congressman" or Mr. Burleson a postmaster general, the men who turned me out, and I have no fear as to the "others" of this county so expressing themselves on the first opportunity.

The Boy Scouts of Albany and Decatur have volunteered their services for the summer to collect any fruit and vegetables donated and deliver to the hospital. The collecting will be done on Mondays and Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week.

Watch Monday's paper for the designated stations on each street of Albany and Decatur, where you may send your contribution on those days. Board of Trustees of Benevolent Society Hospital.

NEW YORK

632 and 634 BROADWAY

Dear Sir:—

MR. ALBERT SMART, our representative and tailoring expert will be in your city on July 9th, 10th 11th and 12th.

He will have a display for your inspection and approval a representative assortment of the finest fabrics the mills produce. The price of woollens has increased enormously since our woollen experts purchased the line. Our prices, however, are based on the original cost and you will therefore reap the full benefit as long as these goods last.

The mills have curtailed their production owing to the fact that they are now filling Government orders and by placing your orders now you will save many dollars over future prices.

This is an exceptional opportunity that you should take advantage of by having our representative measure you for your requirements. You may rest assured that these orders will receive our personal attention and that our designers, and cutters, who are the topmost men in their profession in this country, will consider it a pleasure to please you.

MR. SMART will be with
